

GENERAL SESSIONS.

COURT CONVENED ON LAST MONDAY MORNING.

Judge C. G. Dantzler Presiding—
Many Cases Have Been Tried—
Docket Was Heavy.

The Court of General Sessions convened here on Monday morning with Judge C. G. Dantzler presiding. Solicitor Hildebrand and Stenographer Glaze were also in their places and everything started off smoothly and up to this time considerable business has been disposed of. It is likely that the court will run over into next week, as the docket is quite heavy.

For the first time in many years, as stated by Solicitor Hildebrand, the Court failed to enter into the trial of cases before the recess for dinner. This was the due to the fact that two grand jurors had to be drawn to take the places of two who now reside in Calhoun County; also that Court recessed at an unusually early hour Monday afternoon in order to allow the Democratic Convention to meet in the Court-House at noon.

Judge Dantzler's charge to the grand jury was pronounced the most admirable and comprehensive utterance of the kind ever delivered here. It would require more than the mere synopsis to intelligently convey the substance of Judge Dantzler's charge, but, suffice it to say, were the law administered and upheld in the manner outlined by this learned jurist, South Carolina's standard of citizenship would be raised and there would be fewer criminals for the Courts to deal with. The following cases have been tried:

Charles Syfret, white, disposing of property under lien; guilty, with recommendation to mercy. Fined $25 or 30 days.

Lowman Brown, colored, killed another man's dog "for spite," the animal being valued at $20. Brown was tried in his absence and found guilty.

Jacob Corley, colored, was convicted of house-breaking and larceny, and sentenced to two years on the county works or in the penitentiary.

Clay Shuler, colored, was found guilty of entering a house with intent to steal. This is the negro who entered the store of Ayers and Williams in this city, on the night of April 24, and was discovered by one of the proprietors, while attempting to force an entrance into the safe vault.

A. L. Shoemaker, Ella Shoemaker and Tillman Shoemaker, indicted for assault and battery, with intent to kill. The solicitor entered a nolo prosequi against Ella Shoemaker and Tillman Shoemaker. A. L. Shoemaker was acquitted.

Oscar Johnson, charged with murder, was found guilty with a recommendation to mercy.

Wm. Ancrum who was indicted for housebreaking and larceny, was found guilty and sentenced to serve for a period of four years in the State Penitentiary.

John Sturkie, for the violation of dispensary law, was then tried and found guilty. He was sentenced to serve for a period of 3 months or pay a fine of $100.

Jake Milhouse and Casey Baxter, indicted for murder was then called. On account of lack of evidence to convict, the Judge instructed the jury to bring a verdict of not guilty.

The most important case to be tried at this term is that against B. W. Williams, Jr. for murder. Williams is the negro "detective," who recently killed the colored preacher, James Jefferson, at Branchville, while attempting to arrest the latter for an alleged murder committed in Alabama, six years ago. This case was being tried when the court adjourned Thursday afternoon.

Crosses of Honor.
Mrs. Lula F. Pauling, President of Paul McMichael Chapter, U. D. C., requests that the following veterans to whom Crosses of Honor have never been delivered will call and get them June 3: J. D. Inabinet, P. Shuler, J. C. Stevenson, E. J. Hutto, W. H. Houck, Elliott Hughes, J. S. Dukes, I. W. Ashe, D. Troutman, J. L. C. Hooker and Vague. If any of the above veterans are dead the closest living descendant will please apply or send order. Several other veterans will receive Crosses of Honor on June 3rd.

A Small Fire.
Last night at about twelve o'clock an alarm of fire was sent in from box 19. The blaze proved to be a small house on Winsor street, which was completely destroyed. The reflection was quite large and at first it seemed to be a great deal larger than it really was. The East End Hose Wagon made a good run to the fire, it being over a mile from its house.

Lost First Game.
The Orangeburg Base Ball Team went over to Sumter yesterday to open the State League season. The game was a good one, but Sumter seems to have been too strong for us as they won by a score of six to four. We hope our team will have better luck today and tomorrow.

State College Closed.
The State College closed Wednesday after a very successful session. President Miller manages this institution splendidly, and the students are orderly and well behaved.

What It Will Cost.
We have fixed the price of cards of announcement for magistrates and townships commissioners at two dollars each. This will answer several enquiries we have received on the subject.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Brief Local Notes Picked Up Here and There.

Monday being observed as Memorial Day the banks in this city will be closed.

On and after May 15 all the banks in this city will close at two o'clock every day, excepting Saturdays, on which days they will close at three o'clock. This rule will be observed until August 15.

Mrs. Anna F. Jeffers, of Anniston, Ala., is visiting at the home of Mrs. Frank Smith, 262 E. Russell Street.

Mr. H. N. Carr, of this city, left at our office the other day a genuine cabbage snake. It seemed to have a million feet more or less.

Orangeburg and Sumter will play here the three first days of next week. Big crowds should go out to witness these opening games.

Those who have seen the Orangeburg team at practice say it compares very favorably with last year's team.

Not a member of either of our old teams is with us this year, except the Glaze boys.

Closed up the stores on Monday and give all a chance to see the base ball on Monday afternoon. We want a big crowd to cheer the boys.

Dr. T. H. Abbott, of St. Georges, is dead. He was seventy-five years of age and was highly respected.

Gen. M. S. Connor and some friends will make a trip to New York this Summer.

CALHOUN FOR BRYAN.

Delegates Elected to State Convention Pledged to Him.

Calhoun County held its first Democratic convention at St. Matthews on Monday with Mr. F. J. Buck as temporary Chairman, and Mr. J. A. Merritt as temporary secretary. Mr. F. J. Buck was unanimously elected president and the secretary was instructed to cast the vote of the convention.

Dr. F. T. Droher, was elected by acclamation county chairman and State executive committee.

Mr. A. K. Smoak offered the following resolution:

"Recognizing the right of every citizen to express his convictions by ballots, and realizing that no law can be effective that is ahead of public sentiment, it is hereby resolved that our delegates to the State Convention be instructed to support a resolution in that body placing the question of prohibition directly before the people in the primaries in order that public sentiment may be accurately ascertained on the temperance question."

The above was carried by one vote.

Delegates to the State Convention were instructed to vote for Bryan delegates to the National Convention.

The following were elected delegates to the State Convention: Dr. S. J. Summers, T. M. Nelson, H. C. Pauling, J. S. Wannamaker.

Alternates, J. C. Redman and G. W. Fairley.

Peter Stokes Williams.
The following item appeared in the Waukegan, Ill., Daily Sun of May 2:

"Because she wishes to trace and notify her husband's relatives of his death, Mrs. Peter Williams requests Columbia and Orangeburg, S. C.; Savannah and Marietta, Ga.; Natchez, Miss.; Cincinnati, O., and all Texas papers to copy the following death notice:

"Peter Stokes Williams, aged 55, son of Richard Allen Williams and brother of Lawrence and Wesley Williams, born in Columbia, S. C., died in Waukegan, April 29, at 8 in the morning. Burial in Waukegan, May 2."

"The late Mr. Williams leaves a wife and three children, Mrs. Carrie Hayes and Mrs. Roy Marsh of Chicago, and Edna, aged 9."

Several New Candidates.
The following new candidates have come out, and we commend them all to the tender consideration of the voters:

G. G. Shuler, Township Commissioner.
F. N. Rickenbaker, Coroner.
T. M. McMichael, County Auditor.
A. D. Fair, County Treasurer.
G. L. Salley, Clerk of Court.
John B. Stroman, House of Representatives.
T. D. A. Livingston, County Supervisor.
P. W. Harley, County Supervisor.
L. S. Connor, County Supervisor.
A. F. Fairley, Cotton Weigher.

The Successful Man.
The successful man is the man who has made a happy home for his wife and children. No matter what he has not done in the way of achieving wealth and honor, if he has done that, and it is his own fault, though he be the highest in the land, he is a most pitiable failure. How many men in a mad pursuit of gold, which characterizes the age, realize that there is no fortune which can be left to their families as great as the memory of a happy home.

Married at Aiken.
Mr. Geo. M. Stalvey was happily married on Saturday evening, April 18th, to Miss Etta Lightfoot, of this city. The marriage took place in the presence of Miss Marie E. McLean and Miss Mary E. Laughlin at the Baptist parsonage at Aiken. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Phillip J. McLean, pastor of the Aiken Baptist church.

Charleston Wants Lanford.
The Greenville News says: "Charleston has been making an effort to purchase Lanford from the Spartanburg team. Spartanburg is not willing to part with Sammie, however."

Spartanburg is wise in holding on to Lanford, who is by odds the best pitcher in the Carolina League. Spartanburg has realized before this that Lanford is worth a great deal more than she paid Orangeburg for him.

Good Times Have Come.
Since the money panic started last November the big factories have been short of money. They kept on manufacturing Spring goods, but the demand was so limited that big stocks accumulated on their hands. Within the past few weeks he mills had to raise money, they cut deeply onto the prices to move the goods. A big quantity of these goods have been shipped to Orangeburg and will be sold at a big reduction in price. This will be a chance to buy new goods at and below factory prices. The factory sale will be under the supervision of Mr. W. C. Francis, of New York. He will bring good times back to Orangeburg. The sale starts next Thursday morning at Kohn's Big Store.

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.
The annual meeting of the South Carolina Conference Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will meet here on Wednesday evening, June 24. About one hundred and seventy-five officers, delegates and distinguished visitors are expected to attend. The ladies of the local society are looking forward to this meeting with pleasure, and they feel assured that the gathering of these Christian workers in our city will be both pleasant and profitable.

Death of an Old Lady.
Mrs. Sarah Sanders, relict of the late Jacob Sanders of this county, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Riley, in this city Tuesday, and the remains were buried Wednesday, the funeral and interment taking place at Wesley Grove Church, several miles from the city. Mrs. Sanders, who was 78 years of age, suffered a stroke of paralysis about two weeks ago, from which she never recovered. She had large family connections in this and adjoining counties, and was very highly esteemed. She was for many years a member of the Methodist church.

Death of an Infant.
Vernon Catherine, the little infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar W. Smoak, of Branchville, died on Tuesday morning after a short illness. She was only six months old. Her parents have the consolation of knowing that she is safe in the arms of Jesus. The sympathy of the entire community go out to the bereaved parents.

Many Planting Over.
All kinds of crops have been seriously damaged by the continued heavy rains and the cool weather. Many of the farmers are planting over on account of the poor stands. The rains continue and so does the cool weather, and the outlook for crops this year is not encouraging.

QUITS THE RACE.

One of the Strongest Candidates Voluntarily Retires.

The following card from Mr. M. C. Edwins, who was considered by many as one of the strongest candidates in the race for Supervisor, will be a great surprise to his friends: "I wish to announce to my many friends throughout the county that I will not be a candidate for the office of Supervisor for Orangeburg County in the ensuing campaign, as I find that the great responsibilities resting upon that officer will take up his entire time, leaving him practically unable to devote to his private business. I have a large family and their welfare forbids that I should allow my personal interests to suffer too much, and I do not believe I could attend properly to my private affairs without interfering with my public duties, if I should be elected. For this reason, I will not enter the race this summer, and I take this means of notifying my friends of my decision, and at the same time, of thanking them most heartily for the offers of support they have made to me in the coming election."

"M. C. Edwins."

BEST OF PROOF.

That Hyomel Will Cure All Forms of Catarrhal Diseases.

Testimonials could be printed by the thousand, many of them from Orangeburg and nearby towns, saying that Hyomel absolutely cures all catarrhal troubles. The best proof of its unusual curative powers is the guarantee that J. G. Wannamaker Mfg. Co. give with every outfit they sell, "Money back if Hyomel does not do all that is claimed for it."

Hyomel is not a secret remedy. Its formula is freely given to physicians who want to know what they are using when they prescribe Hyomel. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drug Law by Serial No. 1418.

There is no dangerous stomach dragging when Hyomel is used. Its healing medication is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler, reaching every part of the air passages, destroying all catarrhal germs and curing the disease.

Home Trade Homilies.
When your next door neighbor sells the same kind of goods that the mail order catalogue advertises and at corresponding prices, you need a doctor's attention if you purchase by the mail route.

Every tub must stand on its own bottom. So also must every town. If you knock the bottom out of prosperity in your town by doing a large part of your buying from the catalogue houses, the place is calculated to fall down pretty soon.

If the farmer who does a good deal of buying from mail order concerns expects to continue selling his vegetables and other products in his home town, he should remember that it is a poor rule that won't work both ways.

Folks looking for bargains need not confine their researches to the large and luring catalogues from the city houses. Sometimes local newspapers advertise bargains to be had right at home, and it might pay to look for such things in the home papers. Then if you don't find what you want ask the merchant why he doesn't advertise.

The city mail order store is the real octopus. Its thousands of tentacles are sucking in money from every direction. Money is the blood of a community, and when it is drunk by the octopus to such an extent the town is sure to become anemic.

Catalogue Deceptions.
"No, thank you. I want what I asked for. Good day." This quotation took the grand prize in a recent contest held by a magazine in the campaign against substitution in trade. You do not always get what you ask for when you order through a catalogue. It is very easy to make an article look better in a picture than it looks in reality, and this is done frequently in the catalogues. But there is a still more insidious and contemptible way of deceiving the public which some of these concerns employ. They print both a picture and the description of a piece of furniture, for instance. According to the picture, it is elegant. Suppose it is a dining room table. The picture will show handsome five inch table legs. The reader is attracted at once. Even when he finds by perusing the description that the table has two inch legs he is not altogether disenchanted. Quite often a person orders an article through the influence of the picture.

How to Renovate an Old Waist.

Last season's waists were made much narrower in the shoulders than this year's, and the sleeves simply were immense. If you have a waist which has sleeves made of the same material as your waist and which are too large, it probably also has a yoke of some shape of net. Maybe your waist, especially if it is of silk or satin, is worn under the arms. If you have a few pieces of velvet or silk you can make your waist as good as new and in a pretty, up to date style. Rip the sleeves out and cut the armhole from two to four inches larger, or enough larger so that all the worn part is cut away. Cut the neck round, if it was V shaped or square, and finish it with a half inch wide band of velvet or silk and sew a band of the same material into the large armhole. This band should be two or two and a half inches wide. Make a belt of the same material. If the old waist blouses too much it should be let down an inch or so. This will give you a pretty, modern overblouse, which may be worn over lingerie, net or lace blouses.

ADVERTISE THE TOWN.

Suggestions from an Expert as to a Publicity Campaign.

More than a hundred cities and towns in the United States are now conducting successful advertising campaigns in their own behalf. Some Canadian cities also boom themselves by this direct method of publicity. In a recent paper read at a meeting of commercial clubs by Curtis L. Mosher, manager of the publicity bureau of St. Paul, some valuable suggestions were given. Mr. Mosher's remarks on municipal advertising are applicable to any town which desires to present its attractions to the outside public. Among other things he says:

"No municipal advertising campaign can succeed until it has the united support of practical business men. Somebody must be responsible for the collection of necessary funds, even though only a moderate and economical campaign is decided upon. Some one must be responsible for the results. Otherwise the campaign will be only desultory and unsatisfactory. The best and most practical man the municipality can bring forward should be made chairman of the general committee in charge of the work or be officially designated by some similar arrangement as the manager and director in charge of the work."

"The best beginning that a municipality can make in considering an advertising campaign is to look well to its appearance, attractiveness and local improvements."

Mr. Mosher dwells upon the importance of clean and well lighted streets, good sidewalks, the removal of dilapidated buildings along business streets, a first-class hotel, a public library, attractive approaches to the railway station, rest rooms for women and public drinking fountains.

"As no town or city," continues Mr. Mosher, "can grow faster than the business from its local and tributary population permits, the first important duty of local business men is to consider the possibility of securing a larger rural population, on which to draw for increased business. To get this population and to build up the agricultural resources of the tributary territory is one of the important ends to be sought in the local advertising campaign."

"The merchants with country trade should get lists of friends of their customers living in distant states and send them a letter framed up something like this: 'Mr. —, who is a prosperous farmer living — miles from this town, is successfully farming — acres and this year raised such and such crops, clearing such and such profits. He has given you your name, and I am writing you to tell you of the splendid agricultural resources of this section and the excellent opportunities near this town and adjacent to the farm operated by your friend, which you may perhaps wish to utilize. Make the letter strong and to the point. Set forth the kinds of soil and crops, the values of land, etc., so that the man who gets it will have a clear idea of the situation."

"Inclose with the letters lists of farms for sale within easy reach of the city; also tracts of unimproved lands. 'If the business men of the town can secure from a hundred farmer customers the names of only five farmer friends or relatives in 'the old home districts,' it means 500 agriculturists upon whom direct advertising work may be started. Each hundred farmers added to the tributary rural population means $100,000 a year added to the trade of the city or town. Such work can be done at the cost of a few postage stamps and a little effort."

Mr. Mosher dwells at considerable length upon the desirability of keeping commercial clubs supplied with local data and information; of having county exhibits at the state fair; of securing state and district conventions; of having products marked "Made in —."

"The most dangerous error commonly made in direct advertising for the city or town is to yield too far to the natural feeling of local pride and construct the advertisement or printed matter in such a way that as a matter of fact it is more energetic in praising and placing the city in an agreeable light than it is in presenting purely business facts and arguments that will appeal to a business man."

"Give all your forms of direct advertising a neat and substantial appearance. Decorative effects do not appeal to business men. By all means publish a booklet even though it cannot be pretentious. Fill it with facts and terse business arguments and use all the illustrations you can. Edit it carefully to see that all its statements can be proved and that there is no waste of words. It should answer the question, 'Why, as a business man, investor, farmer or citizen in search of summer outing attractions or a suitable residence or city, should I be interested in —?' This is the best guide to the proper construction of a booklet that can be given without extended comment."

How to Slip House Plants.
To slip house plants, fill a dish with sand. Cut slips away from any kind of house plants, taking care the slip is made from a young green shoot and the cut is made slanting. Keep sand wet all the time. Place in a sunny window. They will begin to show little roots in from two to three weeks. After roots are formed put in small pots and shift into larger pots as they need it. Water each day. To enrich plants with a solution of 150 grains of glue in about two gallons of water.
